

Writing Center Guide

Winter 2023 Jan 9 - May 1

English Department Washtenaw Community College

Welcome to the Writing Center!

Because you're enrolled in one of the following writing courses—ENG 050, ENG 051, ENG 090, ENG 091, ENG 100, ENG 111, or ESL 168—you have a required Writing Center component that will consist of a series of writing assignments that will count as 25% of your final grade in your writing course.

Getting Started in the Writing Center

1. Read the Writing Center Orientation information on your Writing Center Blackboard site.
2. Your Writing Center assignments are on your Writing Center Blackboard site.
3. Note your Writing Center assignment deadlines, which are printed in this guide.
4. You must submit your Writing Center assignments to the on-campus Writing Center (LA 327) or to your Writing Center Blackboard site on or before the deadline dates. (We recommend submitting them to the on-campus Writing Center, where you can talk one-on-one with a Writing Center staff member.) You can work ahead on the assignments as fast as you want, but not as slow as you want.
5. Your Writing Center assignments will be checked by a Writing Center staff member, not your classroom instructor.
6. Your Writing Center assignments are graded Pass/Resubmit and count as 25% of your final grade in your writing course. Your instructor also has access to your Writing Center Blackboard site.
7. Our job in the Writing Center is to help you pass all your Writing Center assignments. If you meet or beat your deadline dates and work with us, you should pass all the assignments.
8. We cannot accept late Writing Center assignments. If you have a late assignment, contact your classroom instructor.
9. We at the Writing Center are committed to providing friendly, compassionate, and knowledgeable support that will help you become a better writer.
